

In the days of Noah, I sent the Great Flood to redirect Man from his erring. But, since that time, the depravity of Man has gradually led him today to the brink of total self-destruction. I need not send a cataclysm since Man is bringing it about himself. Yet, if Man will reconsider Me, his Creator, I am willing to rescue him, but only if he begins to believe Me and places his trust in Me rather than in himself.
